As a franchisee, you will operate a studio offering customers artistic and creative classes, including painting classes, with the opportunity to enjoy food, wine or other beverages under the name "Pinot's Palette."

The total investment necessary to begin operation of a Pinot's Palette franchised business is from $91,447 to $192,224 for a one room studio and $151,140 to $245,648 for a two-room studio. This includes $37,785 to $52,193 that must be paid the franchisor or its affiliate(s). The total investment necessary to begin operation of a mobile Pinot's Palette studio in connection with a Pinot's Palette franchised business is from $8,560 to $15,950. This includes $5,350 to $7,850 that must be paid the franchisor or its affiliate(s).

We may offer to enter into an area development agreement to establish and operate a certain number of Pinot's Palette franchises at specific locations pursuant to individual franchise agreements. The area development fee will be equal to $12,500 multiplied by the number of Pinot's Palette franchises to be developed under the area development agreement. The area development fee will then be credited, in increments of $12,500, toward the franchise fee owed for each Pinot's Palette franchise developed. Your estimated initial investment will vary based on the number of studios to be developed. For each Pinot's Palette franchise developed under an area development agreement the cost is from $91,447 to $192,224 for the first one room studio and $151,140 to $245,648 for the first two room studio to be developed. The franchise fee and therefore the development cost for each Pinot's Palette franchises to be developed thereafter is reduced by $5,000. This includes $50,285 to $64,693 that must be paid the franchisor or its affiliate(s). We will enter into Area Development Agreements under which at least two Pinot's Palette Studios will be developed by an Area Developer.

What You Need To Know About Franchising Generally

Continuing responsibility to pay fees. You may have to pay royalties and other fees even if you are losing money.

Business model can change. The franchise agreement may allow the franchisor to change its manuals and business model without your consent. These changes may require you to make additional investments in your franchise business or may harm your franchise business.

Supplier restrictions. You may have to buy or lease items from the franchisor or a limited group of suppliers the franchisor designates. These items may be more expensive than similar items you could buy on your own.

Operating restrictions. The franchise agreement may prohibit you from operating a similar business during the term of the franchise. There are usually other restrictions. Some examples may include controlling your location, your access to customers, what you sell, how you market, and your hours of operation.

Competition from franchisor. Even if the franchise agreement grants you a territory, the franchisor may have the right to compete with you in your territory.

Renewal. Your franchise agreement may not permit you to renew. Even if it does, you may have to sign a new agreement with different terms and conditions in order to continue to operate your franchise business.

When your franchise ends. The franchise agreement may prohibit you from operating a similar business after your franchise ends even if you still have obligations to your landlord or other creditors.

Some States Require Registration

Your state may have a franchise law, or other law, that requires franchisors to register before offering or selling franchises in the state. Registration does not mean that the state recommends the franchise or has verified the information in this document. To find out if your state has a registration requirement, or to contact your state, use the agency information in Exhibit A.

Your state also may have laws that require special disclosures or amendments be made to your franchise agreement. If so, you should check the State Specific Addenda. See the Table of Contents for the location of the State Specific Addenda.
